

Government announces review of dental fees in Alberta

Over the past few months, the issue of Alberta's high dental costs has been in the news across the province.

In conjunction with this news coverage, Alberta's minister of health, Sarah Hoffman, has announced that the Government of Alberta will undertake a review of dental fees in Alberta—which have seen costs rise faster than the rate of inflation. As reported in the media, Hoffman said she is concerned Albertans are paying too much for dental work.

Alberta is the only province in Canada without a dental fee guide.

As the largest payer of dental services in Alberta, Alberta Blue Cross has a keen interest in dental costs as they directly affect the viability of our customers' benefit plans. Each year, Alberta Blue Cross pays in excess of $430 million annually to dental providers. While Alberta Blue Cross appreciates our excellent working relationship with Alberta dental providers, we welcome a review of dental rates in the province to ensure that consumers are receiving the best value.

As there is no standard for the billing of dental services in Alberta, dental offices charge widely varying fees for dental services. Despite the fact that each year Alberta Blue Cross adjusts the maximum amounts paid to dental providers by your plan, your dentist may still charge more than your plan covers.

Alberta Blue Cross strives to ensure that you understand your dental benefits and are informed that you may face out-of-pocket costs regardless of the basis for payment of claims or level of coverage provided through your dental plan. All Alberta dental offices have quick and easy online access to information about your dental coverage. Most dental offices also submit claims online to Alberta Blue Cross right at the time of your appointment, which means you can find out instantly if you have any out-of-pocket expenses. Your dentist can also submit a predetermination to Alberta Blue Cross prior to your appointment to confirm how much your plan will pay for specific dental procedures. Be sure to ask your dentist about this convenient service.

Fulfilling the entirety of our purpose

Since our employee-led charity Hearts of Blue was formed in 1998 to commemorate the 50th anniversary of Alberta Blue Cross, Hearts of Blue has supported dozens of community-based organizations across the province and has made a positive difference in the lives of tens of thousands of Albertans.

Hearts of Blue

In 2014, Days of Giving volunteers provided their skills and time to help out organizations across Alberta including the Edmonton Food Bank, Braemar School, Habitat for Humanity and Santas Anonymous.

A key aspect of our Hearts of Blue charity has been coordinating opportunities for employees to give the gift of their time outside office hours to support a wide range of worthy causes. Alberta Blue Cross recognized the important contributions of Hearts of Blue and its capacity to make an even more positive impact across the province by broadening the mandate of Hearts of Blue to include a "Days of Giving" component. This new program features corporately-sponsored and sanctioned employee volunteering opportunities during the workday, which allow employees to make a more positive impact in our community.

A LOOK into your benefits: how an eye exam can shape your child's future

Did you know that Alberta Health covers annual eye exams for children ages 0-18? It is recommended that children have their vision tested between the ages of three and five. Routine eye exams are important to ensure your child is seeing and performing their best at school. Uncorrected vision problems can lead to headaches, excessive daydreaming, struggling to keep up at school and poor reading comprehension.

It is equally as important for adults to get regular eye exams. If vision is covered in your benefits, log onto the Alberta Blue Cross member services web site to see when you are next eligible for an eye exam.

These could be early signs of eye trouble in children:

- Constantly tilting head (especially when watching TV).
- Frequently rubbing eyes.
- Not wanting to look at anything up close.
- Having an eye that wanders in and out.
- Often walking into objects or walls.

Question: I was looking at my new Alberta Blue Cross ID card and I noticed that it doesn't list my hospital benefits (Hospital Semi&Priv Direct Bill) why is that?

Answer: Great question. Hospital benefits are no longer displayed on your ID card. Instead, they are included under the "Extended Health Benefits" benefit.

Alberta Blue Cross sponsors diabetes education expos

Every month
1,000
ALBERTANS
diagnosed with diabetes

MORE THAN
estimated number of Albertans living with diabetes or pre-diabetes by 2025

Every month, approximately 1,000 Albertans are diagnosed with diabetes. The Canadian Diabetes Association estimates that more than a quarter of all Albertans are expected to be living with diabetes or pre-diabetes by 2025—and that diabetes will cost the province's health system an estimated $1.3 billion in 2015 alone.

Recognizing that diabetes is a key condition that affects many Albertans—including many of our plan members—Alberta Blue Cross is partnering with the Alberta chapter of the Canadian Diabetes Association this year to sponsor the Calgary and Edmonton Diabetes Expo events being held in the fall. The Diabetes Expos are large-scale education events intended to help provide ongoing self-management learning experiences for adults living with diabetes.

The Edmonton event will be held October 22 at the University of Alberta campus in Edmonton, featuring Hal and Joanne Johnson of Body Break; and the Calgary event will be held November 21 at the University of Calgary.

If you or a family member is living with diabetes, please plan to attend one of these free events. Join us on Facebook and Twitter and watch for more details of these expos to be posted closer to the event dates.

Shining a light on fraud detection

In February, news outlets announced that Red Deer RCMP laid charges against two women who were alleged to have defrauded Alberta Blue Cross of more than $119,000.

This case was identified by our Audit Services team during an audit of employee coverage at a Red Deer employer in 2010. Our investigation discovered a large number of suspected fraudulent claims, which were turned over to the RCMP. The fraud involved more than 100 employees and has taken years to piece together, due to the large number of small invoices involved.

The investigation indicated that the two women encouraged a number of employees to sign blank claim forms that the two women then submitted to Alberta Blue Cross with false receipts. The women allegedly then received a significant percentage of each claim payout. Numerous interviews and examination of hundreds of files show that most of the false claims were for massages, and used business names that were similar to those of local businesses.

We are pleased that charges have been laid. One of the co-accused, who admitted she defrauded Alberta Blue Cross, has been sentenced to four months in jail and the other woman faces 18 months probation and restitution of $14,000.

This is one example of the types of issues we monitor and uncover through our fraud detection measures.

Alberta Blue Cross has a zero tolerance policy towards any fraudulent abuse of the benefit plans we administer on behalf of our customers. We actively investigate and have extensive measures in place to detect and combat fraud and plan abuse. These measures include monitoring of claim patterns, auditing to ensure compliance with plan contracts and agreements, pursuing civil and criminal prosecution where evidence indicates fraudulent activity has occurred and restitution where warranted.

Preventing fraud and plan abuse helps keep our benefit plans viable. More information about fraud prevention can be found on our web site at www.ab.bluecross.ca/aboutus/fraud-prevention.php.

If you suspect any potential fraud or plan abuse or any improprieties which may include fraudulent activity—such as actions that provide little or no benefit to you but maximize payments to your provider or supplier based on your plan coverage—please contact the Alberta Blue Cross fraud hotline toll free at 1-866-441-8477 or by email to fraudtips@ab.bluecross.ca.

Alberta's tourism industry dates back to 1885 when a large area of scenic wilderness in the Canadian Rocky Mountains was set aside as Banff National Park.

There are a number of exclusions and advisories that could prevent your claim from being paid. It is important that you review your benefit contract before booking your trip. Some of these exclusions include

- travelling while pregnant after your 32nd week of gestation or against doctor's advice;
- participating in extreme sports; for example, bungee jumping, zip lining, parachuting and hang gliding;
- travelling to a destination that is considered "at-risk"; and
- not contacting the Travel Assistance Service prior to receiving care.
